

SUNDAY, MAY 30, 2004 / Mostly sunny, 72-76 / Weather: Page 38 ★★

Suiting you to a tea

Iced quenchers a refreshing change from the ordinary

By RAMIN GANESHAM

Chocolate Bar Tea Belly up for iced teas that taste like chocolate candy. Mixes, available at Chocolate Bar (48 Eighth Ave., between Horatio and Jane streets) are concocted with black or rooibos tea, vanilla, ginger, mint, masala and cocoa. $8-9 per 4-ounce box. ★★★

Inko's White Tea Blueberry- and honeydew-flavored tea made from the buds — not the leaves — of the tea plant. Inko's uses natural extracts and are 56 calories per 16 oz. bottle. Available at Whole

Foods and D'Agostino (at Gristedes and Stop & Shop, first week of June) for about $2 each. ★★★

Rooibos Red Tea Not really tea at all but the needles of a South African shrub. With zero calories or carbs, rooibos is an Atkins dream. Kalahari Red available at Shop Rite & Gristedes about $3 per box. ★★★

